

Special Notes Regarding the Molds

- NTKJ Co., Ltd., hereinafter referred to as “OUR COMPANY,” will not use the mold(s) except for manufacturing purposes as instructed by your company.
- The mold(s) manufactured by OUR COMPANY will be kept in-house to ensure confidentiality and quality control of the mold(s). We strictly prohibit the removal of the mold(s) from OUR COMPANY.
- Duplicating, or attempting to duplicate a mold by using a product created from OUR COMPANY’s original mold is strictly prohibited. (Please consult us if you need to make a copy for reasons such as mass production or to inquire about other molding methods.)
- OUR COMPANY will provide a mold disposal certificate in the event that OUR COMPANY receives a request to return the mold.
- The molds are stored in-house and managed by our employees. However, the molds may naturally become defective over time. Please note that OUR COMPANY does not accept responsibility for deterioration/damage of molds due to aging and/or natural disasters.
- If OUR COMPANY receives no orders to use the mold(s) for two years or more, OUR COMPANY will contact your company to discuss plans for future use. If there are no future orders planned using the mold(s), OUR COMPANY will proceed with the disposal of the mold(s) with permission from your company. (If your company has any additional requests regarding mold storage, please contact us to discuss a separate storage fee.)
